

SBU-1

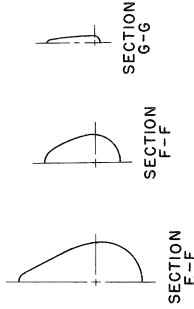

CHANCE VOUGHT

U. S. NAVY
SBU-1
BUILT BY CHANCE VOUGHT AIRCRAFT
DIVISION OF UNITED AIRCRAFT CORPORATION
DALLAS, TEXAS

FUSELAGE SECTIONS

The SBU-1, which also included the SBU-2 model, was produced for the U. S. Navy in 1935 as a scout bomber. It incorporated a new engine cowling with adjustable flaps and pressure baffles.

Wing Span 33' 3" Height 9' 12"
Length 27' 9" Power Plant Pratt & Whitney "Twin Wasp," R-1535-62

